

INDIAN HOUND BREEDS WEBINAR

Saturday, 31st October, 2020 @ 10h00

Presented by

Shharat Sharma

International FCI All Breeds Judge & owner of the 'Ratnbela' Kennel in India

The first steps into the vast and wonderful world of Show dogs were taken in 1979 when Shharat bought his first KCI registered Labrador Bitch. The passion for Gundogs continued and he added Golden Retrievers, Irish Setters, German Short Haired Pointers and Cocker Spaniels to the kennels during the first decade. In each of these Breeds Shharat achieved fair success and made up over 20 Champions. The early 1990s saw a shift to Beagles. The Breed had been sidelined for many years in India by show enthusiasts and breeders alike but the importation of NZ Ch. Jest Aint No Angelsaw saw a dramatic revival of the Breed. Shharat is rightfully credited as one of the founders of the modern Beagle in India. Since then he has bred over 25 Champions under the 'Ratnbela' Prefix. His kennel is now a treasure house of the finest bloodlines in the world. Ratnbela has also been home to many other Breeds, including Dachshunds, Boxers, German Shepherds and Chihuahuas.

The moment of glory came in 1998-99 when his Irish Setter Ch. Eireannmada Manhattan (co-owned) was declared the Reserve Dog of the Year in India.

At present the show team comprises Dachshunds (Std Smooth), Dobermanns, Irish Setters, Boxers, Golden Retrievers and Pomeranians.

Granted an All Breeds judging license in 2009, Shharat has judged at most major show venues in India. He has also judged the Pug Speciality and Rottweiler Speciality Shows in India and Gundog Speciality Show in Western Australia. He has judged prestigious International Dog Shows in South Africa, Philippines, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand, Indonesia, China, Romania, Malaysia and Germany.
